The remaining 55%, which is not contracted out, are high-use greenbelts, larger neighborhood parks, community parks and citywide facilities. This splitting of areas has enabled the department to provide high quality services at all facilities while focusing in-house efforts in those extremely high public use areas.

The tree maintenance contracts are mostly used for block trimming of street trees on a routine, scheduled basis while in-house crews concentrate on small tree planting and trimming as well as work orders, removals of sick or dead trees and clearing streets for vehicles and pedestrians.

Community Development Block Grants

The City of Davis receives Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). CDBG funds are used to implement a wide range of community development activities directed toward revitalizing neighborhoods, economic development, and providing improved community facilities and services principally for low and moderate-low income persons. The City of Davis reviews CDBG funding priorities annually and generally uses the grant to increase availability of affordable housing, provide funding for a basic safety net of food, shelter and health services, improve preventive social services to low income residents, expand accessibility of facilities and services for disabled residents and expand job development for low income residents. The City allocates the major part of its CDBG grant to local non-profit groups who provide a wide variety of housing and social services in several major categories:

Housing Financing

CDBG housing activities have combined public and private resources to expand and enhance housing for low income Davis residents. Generally, the housing activities have combined contributions from developers, CDBG and other local grant funds, the community and private housing financial institutions to meet affordable housing needs.

Public Facilities and Removal of Architectural Barriers

Since the CDBG program began in 1984, public facilities funds have been used to build the Senior Center and the Inclusive Recreation Facility on Anderson Road, rehabilitate the playground at the Children's Center, and establish a homeless shelter and transitional housing sites in Davis. Last year, CDBG funds were used to assist with facility improvements to the cold-weather shelter, improve the Veterans Memorial Center Theater lobby and restrooms, remodel the Municipal Golf Course restrooms and improve the accessibility of public parking areas at Central Park and to support the Manor Pool improvements. Other public facility improvements completed last year included installation of audible pedestrian signals in two heavily used intersections, installation of concrete pads across planter strips at two major intersections, and continued curb access improvements on Davis city streets.

Public Services

Public services include meal programs, health services, emergency shelter, counseling, in-home support and child care. In the past, public service funds have supported organizations such as Davis Community Meals, Communicare Health Clinic, Short-term Emergency Aid Committee (STEAC) and a first response domestic violence response project through the Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Center.

Program Administration

HUD authorized the City to use CDBG funds for program administration costs necessary to ensure compliance with all federal funding requirements, including project and program monitoring, technical assistance to service providers, managing the grant award process, preparing required records and reports, monitoring implementation of Consolidated Plan and Annual Plan goals and objectives, ensuring ADA compliance, ensuring fair employment housing compliance, coordination homeless services planning and delivery, and conducting necessary special needs assessments.
